16 December 1963

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting Mr. Kirkpatrick reported that the Bureau of the Budget had expressed some unhappiness about the budget cuts which we are making in our communications program, saying that they were afraid we would not be able to go forward with combined communications centers in Europe, contribute to the National Communications System, etc. The Director said in substance that it was his understanding that our Communications budget provided for communications for CIA only. General Carter responded that this was almost, but not exactly, right and indicated to me that we should not bother the Director further until we had gotten a reaction from the Department of State and the Department of Defense. Since this was not quite accurate, I furnished General Carter an "Eyes Only" memorandum later in the day in order to set the facts straight.

3. [REDACTED] reported that [REDACTED] did not agree to give the contractor at [REDACTED] another $50,000. Hence, the Navy is still holding out $198,000 on this contract. There will be an inspection on 10 January 1964 to see what the contractor has actually accomplished. If he does not demonstrate by completed actions prior to that time his competence to finish promptly, he may be closed out; then the [REDACTED] would take over the responsibility for completing the job with the funds they have held out from the contractor.

5. Emmett Echols reported that he had had a request from Mr. Dulles to supply a well-qualified secretary for the next several weeks to work for the commission investigating the President's assassination. I told him to co-operate, and I have reported this to Kirk.
